

Proclamation of the Knox County Commission

By Order of the Knox County Commission
it is hereby proclaimed:

“CSI KNOXVILLE DAY”

Be it known that Knox County Commissioner R. Larry Smith does hereby recognize and honor the Construction Specification Institute of Knoxville upon the occasion of its Fiftieth Anniversary.

Whereas, the Construction Specification Institute is the only organization that supports the entire construction community; and

Whereas, the Student Chapter, formed in 1974, is one of the largest and most active at the University of Tennessee School of Architecture and Design; and

Whereas, CSI Knoxville has a fully endowed scholarship at the University of Tennessee School of Architecture and Design; and

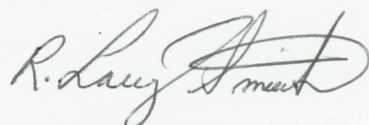

Whereas, in 2009 the Student Chapter of CSI Knoxville won the National Design Competition Award; and

Whereas, CSI Knoxville has won well over 100 Region and Institute Awards; and

Whereas, CSI Knoxville has participated in numerous community service projects and over the years has delivered over 1,000 toys for the Toys for Tots program; and

Whereas, CSI Knoxville has represented our community throughout the Nation with extreme pride over the last 50 years; and Therefore, due to their high accomplishments and outstanding contributions to our community, and in recognition of their Fiftieth Anniversary, Knox County Commissioner R. Larry Smith does hereby honor and commend the Construction Specification Institute of Knoxville and officially proclaims January 12, 2010 to be "CSI Knoxville Day" in Knox County. This Proclamation will be effective immediately, the public welfare requiring it.

R. LARRY SMITH

Let all within reach of this Proclamation heed its direction.
By order of the Knox County Commission